Headline:
Rain in south clearing, joining north in sunny spells later.

Today:
Rather cloudy with some rain in the south during the morning, with the north brightest. Cloud and rain should slowly clear from the south later, leaving the whole region with some late sunshine. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Mainly dry during the evening, with some sunny then clear spells. Becoming increasingly breezy however, with the wind eventually bringing a few blustery showers later in the night. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Monday:
Showers soon clearing to a bright but breezy day with some sunny spells. Perhaps becoming cloudier from the northwest later in the day, ahead of a damp night. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
A quiet few days weather-wise, perhaps on the cloudy side at times. Early rain Tuesday clearing to sunny spells, with further bright spells for Wednesday and Thursday. Temperatures around average.
